

SPRINKLE!SPRINKLE!

As the great SheRaSeven once said, “If a man wanted to, he would”.

But Miss Thing the dating scene these days is rough.

The dating scene is absolute trash and the bar is in hell for men.

How bad is it you ask look at the chart below:

More than half of women say dating has gotten harder in the last 10 years

% of adults in each group saying, for most people, dating is ___ compared to 10 years ago

	Harder today	Easier today	About the same
All adults	47	19	33
Men	39	23	37
Women	55	16	28

According to the PewResearch Center 55% of women said that dating today is way harder than it was 10 years ago.

That is more than half of the women that took the survey, that's crazy.

It's crazy because they don't know each other and they all agree that dating sucks nowadays.

And of course it is because women have evolved so rapidly but the only men that seem to walk in their lives are:

- The 50/50 guy
- The broke dusty
- The dude who wants a mommy and not a partner

And my favorite the dude that dates you for 5+ years and doesn't want to get married because “He's not ready”.

If it was just those guys it wouldn't be that bad, but Girl it gets worse.

Look at these comments under this young lady's video:

A screenshot of social media comments. The top row shows two comments: one from 'trippi.eth @0xTrippi' with 2,668 views and one from 'section 8 (doctor gave me muscle...)' with 406 views. The second row shows two more comments: 'legosatoshi.nft @4u_noname' with 1,777 views and 'Blackking @AlphaKingBBC' with 132 views. The third row features a comment from 'ANDREAS PISTOL @PistolAndreas' with 1,624 views. The comment from Andreas Pistol includes a red circle with 'AP' and text that reads: 'With her mouth shut, an 8. With her mouth open, a -8.'

All she did was do a trend video(which she is free to do) and they dragged her through the comments.

It's like they don't even like women.

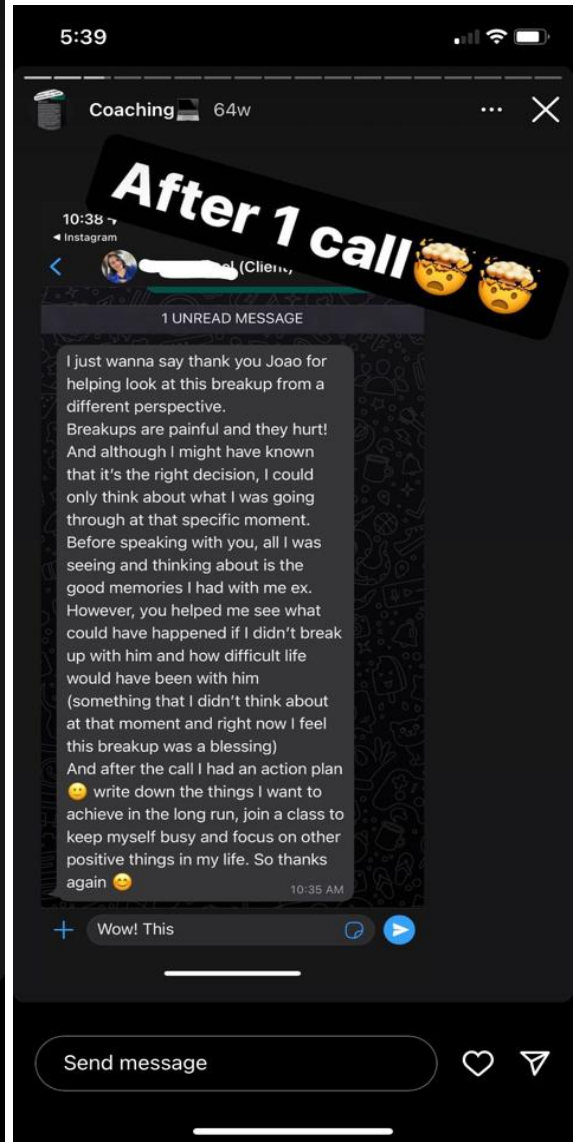

Imagine being their girlfriend or even their wife (yikes)

And that's where I step in. Hi my name is J.Nogueira (you can call me J) and I am a dating coach for women that are seeking relationships without settling for less.

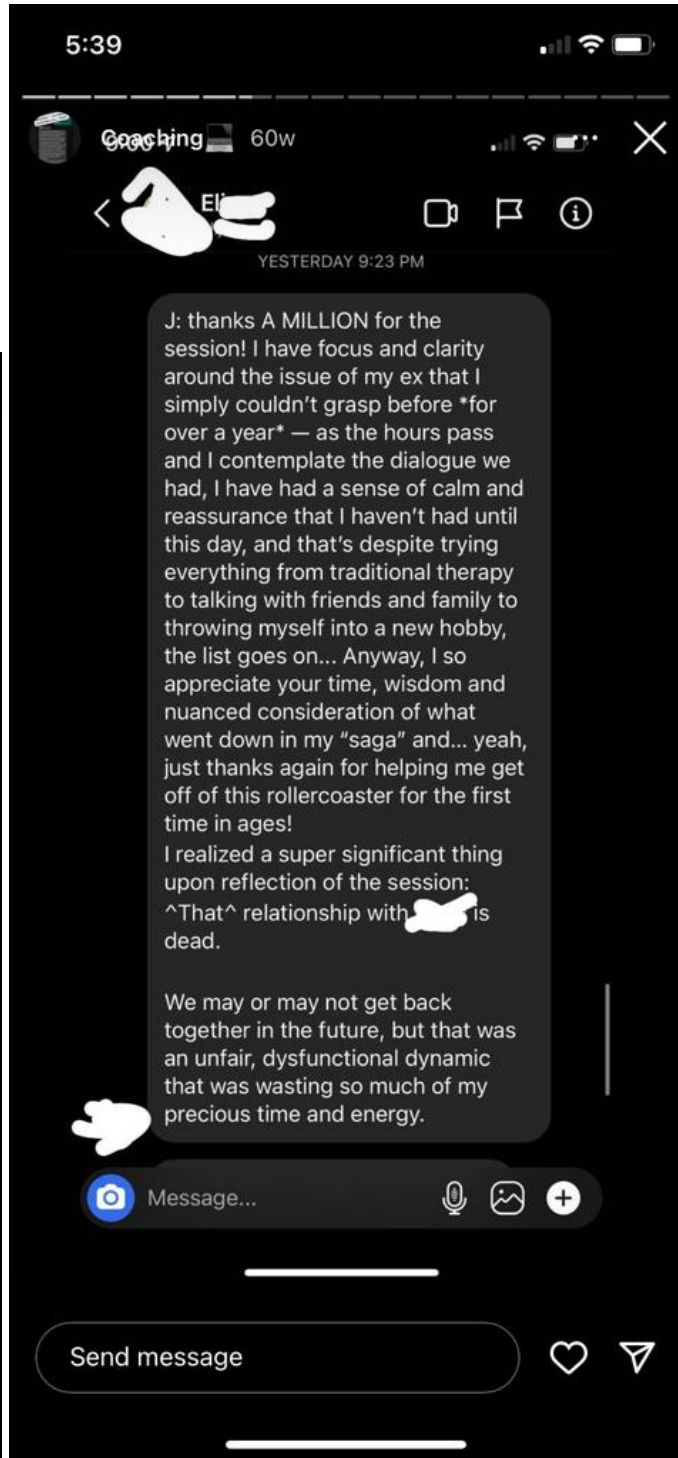

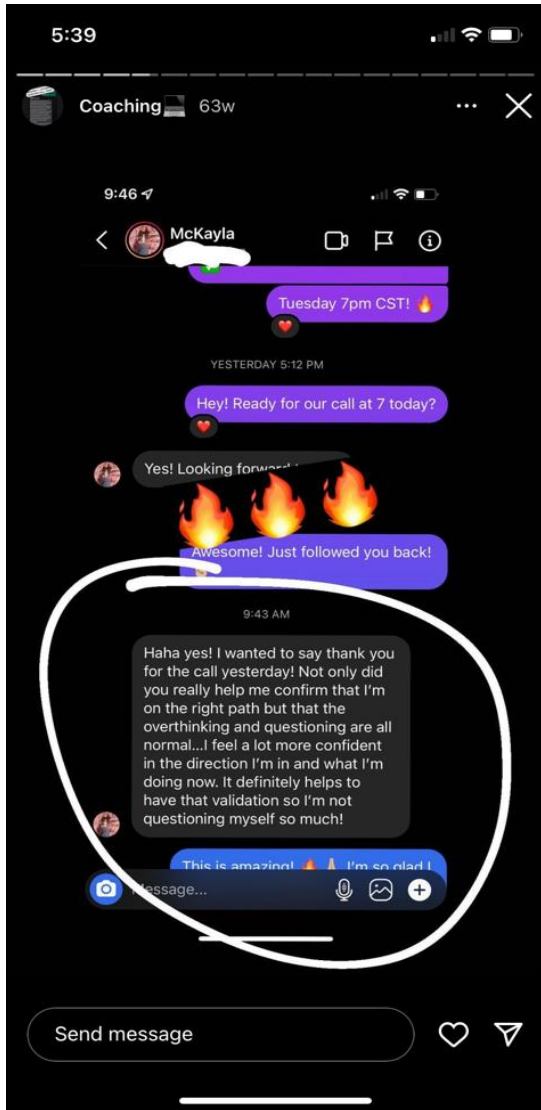

I have always felt like a big brother to the women in my life and always helped them with their relationships so they can get the best men (that they actually love).

The women I helped out would always praise me for my perspective and for how much time and heartbreak I saved them and to be honest I didn't think what I was doing was special until I started to take on clients and got these results(consistently).

Just look at the reviews below girl:

And you have to see these too:

Now let's state the obvious

I'M A DUDE

And girl that's perfect for you because who else can tell you the mind of a dude except another dude.

Seriously think about it:

- A rich person will never understand the daily stress of being poor
- A man will never understand the pains of labor pain
- And a woman will never truly understand the mind of a man (unless she has inside help)

No shade to your girlfriends, blog sites or any woman that gives you advice about men but I have lived, breathed and existed as a man and I could show you things in 10 seconds that you would never understand otherwise.

Let me be your inside help.

I hear how men talk and think and with me you would learn:

- What makes a woman appealing to a man (and no it has nothing to do with your body or your cooking skills)
- Which girl becomes the wife and which girl waits for the ring(forever)
- Why some girls get princess treatment without her asking and why some girls have to split the bill
- How to spot a provider after just one date

And so much more.

I have been doing this professionally for over 4 years and all this golden knowledge has helped other women like:

- Eli from Washington who not only thanked me for my perspective that pointed out to her that not only was her relationship dead but that it was an unfair 'situationship'.
- Maggie from California who learned that she needed to learn to put herself first as well as not lowering her standards because she is worthy of love.

- Heather from Chicago who after a rough marriage and divorce learnt new ways of seeing how the relationship between a man should be, and she has gained the courage to back in the dating game (the right way)

Let me be your wingman.

Let me show you how to avoid men that are living breathing Red Flags (and how to spot them easily).

I'll teach you how to spot a guy who is not only a provider but a considerate human being that you can talk to.

With my help you can see less of the ghosters and closer to the kind and loving man of your dreams.

To make this easier we can face-time and text so it's just like big brother J is helping his little sister out.
